

October 19, 2004

Welcome to "3rd Wednesday" for the TriBakery group.

Every third Wednesday of the month we postpone our normal group discussion. This is so we can not only grow in the content that we discuss but also in the friendships we form here in the TriBakery group. So go get something to eat, and something to drink, sit down and introduce yourself to those around you. If you are having trouble finding something to talk about perhaps the quotes below could help stir discussion.

Enjoy
Kirk

Quote:

"No human being escapes the necessity of conceiving some good outside himself towards which his thought turns in a movement of desire, supplication, and hope."

Simone Weil, philosopher
From a website dedicated to Simone Weil

"The Moral Law tells us the tune we have to play: our instincts are merely the keys..."

CS Lewis, author & professor
From Mere Christianity

October 19, 2004

Welcome to "3rd Wednesday" for the TriBakery group.

Every third Wednesday of the month we postpone our normal group discussion. This is so we can not only grow in the content that we discuss but also in the friendships we form here in the TriBakery group. So go get something to eat, and something to drink, sit down and introduce yourself to those around you. If you are having trouble finding something to talk about perhaps the quotes below could help stir discussion.

Enjoy
Kirk

Quote:

"No human being escapes the necessity of conceiving some good outside himself towards which his thought turns in a movement of desire, supplication, and hope."

Simone Weil, philosopher
From a website dedicated to Simone Weil

"The Moral Law tells us the tune we have to play: our instincts are merely the keys..."

CS Lewis, author & professor
From Mere Christianity